

Copyright Photo Release Form

If you would like TCW Designs / The Candy Wrappers to make personalized photo invitations and/or favors from a photo taken by a professional photographer, you must first get permission from that photographer. Most portrait studios will provide this form free of charge. We've provided a photo release form below that you may print and take to the photographer if you prefer.

We will not print your order until after we receive consent from the photographer.

Thank you for your understanding,
Lisa & Patti
